- Must be baptized on confession of faith.
- Must acknowledge and support the EMC statement of faith

CONGREGATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

Congregational government is an expression of our concept of the priesthood of all believers. Each member of the body of Christ has the responsibility and privilege of helping the church discern God's will for them. We believe the Holy Spirit guides individually and corporately as we meet to prayerfully make decisions, allowing for open discussion of matters related to the work of the church.

- The membership will meet for the purpose of approving:
 - o Calling of Pastoral Staff
 - o Baptism and Membership Transfer
 - o Elections of Board of Elders and Standing Committees
 - o Budget and Financial information
 - o For other business deemed necessary by the Board of Elders
- All members have the right to vote.
- Adherents are welcome to attend membership meetings as observers. Adherents are not eligible for election to the elder board or to committees. (Adherents are defined as non-members who attend church regularly.)
- The ministry of the church shall be supervised by elected or appointed committees, under the leadership of the Board of Elders. These committees will each organize themselves and appoint a chair. The responsibilities of these committees are spelled out below and more detailed job descriptions are available in the job description policy manual.
- No person is permitted to serve on more than one committee or board simultaneously.

- As the church grows, other committees may be added, as deemed necessary for the function of the church, upon approval of the membership.
- The Elder Board and Committees, and their related ministries, are subject to the scrutiny and direction of the membership.

Constitution Revision

A constitutional change cannot be made on the day of the motion for the change. The motion, however, can be made and seconded at any membership meeting. Then will follow a waiting period during which the membership is notified on three (3) consecutive Sundays so they can discuss and pray about the motion of change. The vote on the revision will occur at the next membership meeting. For a change to be adopted, the vote needs to be at least 75 percent in favour, in terms of those present to vote.
